DEPARTMENTAL ACTIVITY
RBI'S 90TH YEAR CELEBRATIONS AS RBI DAY, 01.04.2024

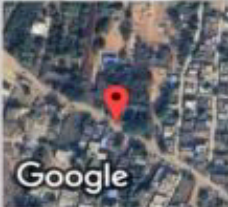

In view of the Indian Central Bank's 90th year of establishment, the dept. of economics observed the day in the college for the broader understanding of B.A and B.Com students. The programme started by the introduction of the issue by the lecturers and later on continued with the live telecast of honourable prime minister sri Narendra Modi, finance minister Smt. Nirmala Sitaraman, RBI governor Sri Shakti kanta das's inspiring speeches. The speeches focussed on the importance and contribution of Indian central Bank RBI, since its inception in terms of Inflation control, Liquidity support and safeguarding and protecting the common citizens and investors as well. They all lauded the impeccable role of RBI in maintaining of crucial forex and gold reserves, funding the central governments, easing the crowding out effect, mainlining suitable interest rates and especially its role during KARONA and RECESSION times.

The programme was designed and executed by the Amartyasen club formed in the Department of Economics to facilitate such academic events and pursue economics related surveys and take up various extension activities for the local community. The RBI's day observation event was concluded with the resolution to conduct a Numismatics Exhibition in further in the college.
